

BARBARITA PALACIOS CRIOLLA

Barbarita Palacios presents Criolla

Singer-songwriter of the Latin alternative scene, guitarist and multi-instrumentalist.
Produced by Gustavo Santaolalla.

Barbarita has been working on stage making music since she was very young with her mother, Egle Martin (www.eglemartin.com), a legendary Argentine artist who, in addition to dedicating her studies to Afro-Argentine culture and rhythms, worked with artists such as Astor Piazzolla.

In her early professional training, Barbarita studied acting and singing with the best teachers in her country. She made his first compositions with "Semilla", a seminal folk rock band, and later worked on different projects such as "Terraplén", along with Gaby Kerpel (Fuerza Bruta) and the Yegros among others. Currently, in addition to dedicating herself fully to his solo project, she is part of Gustavo Santaolalla's group, "Desandando el Camino", as a singer and multi-instrumentalist, with whom they recorded a live album at the Teatro Colon "Raconto".

Her music has an attitude and a sound that bring it closer to rock and electronic music, as well as to the roots, with rhythms typical of our Latin American land. With her original songs and beautiful voice, she is already the winner of the 'Gardel Award' for Best Alternative Folklore Album with her album "Si Va", and she is presenting his new album "CRIOLLA" (again nominated for the Gardel Awards), which has the collaboration of Julieta Venegas, Meme del Real (Café Tacuba) and Gustavo Santaolalla, who also produced both works.

On this occasion, Barbarita is accompanied live by Javier Casalla (Bajofondo) who plays violin, guitars and programming as well as being the musical director of the album and the band, and Lucero Carabajal (her son, also a member of the Carabajal family of Argentine folklorists, musician and trap producer) in bombo legüero and electronic percussion.

Barbarita's live show is perfect for all audiences, timeless and eclectic like the album, alternating emotional and epic passages that wander between rock and folklore.
